STIPULATION AND ORDER FOR CONTINUANCE OF CASE MANAGEMENT CONFERENCE USDC NDCA No. C054193 CRB . 204195.1

STIPULATION

Pursuant to this Court's Local Rules 6.2 and 7.12, this stipulation for continuance of the Case Management Conference is made by and between plaintiffs The United States Life Insurance Company and American General Assurance Company on the one hand, and defendants Ronald H. Jones (sued herein as Ron Jones) and Pacific A&M on the other, by and through their counsel of record and is based on the following facts:

- 1. On January 20, 2006, counsel for the parties appeared before this Court at the Case Management Conference. At that time, based on the discussion with the Court and between counsel, the Court set a further Case Management Conference for April 21, 2006, giving the parties time to engage in voluntary mediation to which both parties agreed. The Court did not set the trial date, or any pretrial dates.
- 2. Since the time of the January 20, 2006, Case Management Conference, the parties have discussed settlement on their own, without engaging in private mediation. To facilitate settlement, plaintiffs have been reviewing their files and records in order to assess the demand for payment asserted in defendant and counterclaimant Pacific A&M's counterclaim. That document review is ongoing and requires additional time to complete. By continuing the Case Management Conference for approximately 60 days, or to June 16, 2006, plaintiffs should be able to complete its document review and better assess defendant Pacific A&M's claim for payment, thereby facilitating settlement discussions.
- 3. In addition, the continuance will grant the parties time to engage in voluntary private mediation in advance of the continued conference date, should independent efforts at settlement be ineffective.
